Ujyalo national network begins airing OHCHR-Nepal radio dramas about human rights in CA elections

This week, the Ujyalo national network of FM stations across Nepal began airing a series of three radio dramas produced by OHCHR-Nepal about human rights and the Constituent Assembly (CA) elections.*

The three short dramas depict average Nepalis discussing some of the human rights relevant to the current election process. These rights include:

- Right to life;
- Right to participation;
- Freedom of opinion, expression and access to information;
- Right to peaceful assembly and freedom of association;
- Freedom of movement;
- Freedom from intimidation;
- Freedom from discrimination.

In addition to distributing public information about human rights and the CA elections, OHCHR teams across Nepal are already monitoring the the human rights aspect of the elections process. This includes responding to reports of alleged election-related human rights violations and doing pro-active monitoring to identify patterns of violations that could be addressed through public reporting or other types of advocacy, such as meetings with political actors or local authorities.

\ The radio dramas air at 6:08 am on the Ujyalo national network. In Kathmandu this is Ujyalo FM, at 90.0 MHZ. The list of other stations broadcasting the dramas is attached*
